

~~ VOID ~~

I stare upon the empty canvas
My mind goes blank, my head, empty
Whether sooner or later, I'm not sure which
The world around me fades to black
The static cascades over my body
As the darkness eats the light
And now, I am left with nothing but the
VOID

It is everywhere, yet it is nowhere
It is and yet it isn't
The blackness is all that remains
And yet that isn't truly there
I search for an escape but find
Only nothing in the nothing
Everything around me has been consumed by the
~~VOID~~

The silence deafens
Yet my cries for help yield nothing of note
I am a something in the nothing
The static is gone, and all sensation is absent
Scratching and clawing to feel anything, useless
Marks left bring no pain
Nothing matters anymore, it's all nothing in the
~~ VOID ~~

I yearn to feel, yearning fades
